

Training Skills

ECO trains the client firm's human resources. Our courses are intended for quality officers as well as the entire personnel. Training processes are assigned to experts with a strong theoretical background and proven field experience.

They work to steer personnel into efficiency: their aim is to reach a total certified quality. This ambition must coincide with a sensible, enduring and steady professional growth of a company's human resources, because the quality of a product and service grows at the same rate with the proficiency of those who manage it.

Our aim is to transfer value to client firms' human resources.
